One of the most agreeable picnics of the season was that of the Sunday School scholars of St. Anne's Church, Edgefield which took place yesterday. The children met at the church at 8 o'clock, formed a procession, and marched to the grounds of Mrs. P. D. Williams, not far distant. A provision train followed in the rear, which as placed in charged of J. P. Barthell, ieneral in Chief of the Commissary Department. Arriving at the place selected the pienie, the children lost no time in arranging for the day's sport. Some engaged in a game of croquet, others took to the swings, while numerous plays and games were improvised for the benefit of the little ones, and it was really a pleasure to see the joyous faces of happy youth, as they went skipping o'er the green. Table cloths were spread on the grassy lawn about noon, the baskets emptied of dainties, nic-nacs and substantials, and the youngsters were invited to the feast pre pared for them. The rain which fell in the evening tended to increase the enjoyment of the children, for, instead of stop ping the sport, they were invited within he spacious mansion of Mrs. Williams. where sets were formed, and to the music of the piano dancing was indulged in freely. Mrs. Williams, Col. Shelby Williams and wife, did all in their power to make the day pass off agreeable, and to their efforts the children were indebted for a day of genuine pleasure.

PENTECOST.

its Origin and Antiquity-Peculiari-

To-day is the day of Pentecost, which according to the authorities upon the sub-ject, means the fiftieth and one of the three principal festivals of the Jews, so-called in modern languages because it was celebrated on the 50th day after the feast of the Passover, but originally called the feast of weeks, because it was celebrated seven weeks after the 16th day of the first month of the Mosaic calendar (Nisan) It was and still is observed by the Jeus (now generally on the day following the 50th) as a day of public rejoicing and also in commemoration of the revelation of the law on Sinai, which happened on the same day. The day is also kept as a high testival in the Christian Church to commemorate the descent of the Holy Ghoet upon the Apostles, ten days after Christ's accension, and the commemorate the Gentiles. The Apostles, the women and others, to the number in all of about 120, being gathered together at Jerusalem on the day of Pentecost, "suddenly there came a sound from Heaven as of a rushing, mighty wind and it filled all the house where they were sitting. And there appeared unto them cloven tongues, like as of fire, and it sat upon each of them and (now generally on the day following the peared unto them cloven tongues, like as of fire, and it sat upon each of them and they were filled with the Holy Ghost and began to speak with ether tongues as the spirit gave them utterance.

Now when this was noised abroad the multitude came together and were confounded, because every man heard them speak in his own language," (Acts ii, 2-6) And it is further related that Peter thereup-on preached to them and about 3,000 souls on preached to them and about 3,000 so on preached to them and about 3,000 soms were converted. The precise nature of the gift of tongues, as the power then conferred by the Holy Ghost is generally called, is variously explained by commentators. Some believed that the Apostles were miraculously enabled to speak all languages without having learned them; others suppose the speaking with tongues to have merely a convulsive sort of utterance, followed by intelligible and inspired words Other critics hold that the speakers used either their own native languages or an ecstatic tongue which, by a miracle, sounded each hearer as if it was his own dialect. The festival of Pentecost was in the early ages one of the favorite seasons for administering baptism; and as those symbolize the spiritual purity which baptism confers the day sequired the name of Whitsunday. Whitsundide. This is the sixth day of the month "Sivan," the third month in the Hebrew year, in which the month in the Hebrew year, in which the Israelites, according to the Mosaic account, celebrated the festival of Pentecost or 'feast of weeks." During the time the Holy Temple stood in Jerusalem, a sheaf of the first ripe corn was offered up to the Lord on the sixteenth day of the month Nisan which is the second day of Passover, and from that day fifty days were ordered to be counted until the festival of hag hashshabuoth, Pentecost or "feast of weeks." (See Leviticus xxiii, 15:16.) It is also called in the Bible Chag Hakkatzier, Harvest Feast. (See Exodus, xxiii, 16.) Then, in Palestine, the harves commenced directly after the Passover. It is also called Yom Habecerim, (see Deut., xxviii, 26,) the day of the first ripe fruits, because on this day the first fruits were brought as an offering into the Temple.

This is also the memorable day on which God revealed himself on Mount Sinai and gave the Holy Laws, which took place on
